A Teong Man Desires to See Pelicenne Cey and Gets Areasted.

Following close upon the heels of the Thompson tragedy came the arrest of two Maxiness for an alleged conspiracy to assessinate Coy. Saturday night another incident occurred which served to keep alive the flagging excitement. A young man, whose appearance was aniounized to attract attention, entered the Vandeville theater, and, purchasing a ticket, went up stairs to the dreas circle. He was clothed in a very heavy overcoat, although the night was warm, and wore a new Maxinezh hat. Finding no one up stairs, he came down and went into the parquette. Here he asked a waiter where Polloeman Coy was and upon the latter replying that he did not know, asked to have Coy pointed out to him as soon as Polloeman Coy was annual replying that he did not know, asked to have Coy pointed out to him as soon as he entered. The waiter told Coy of the man's peculiar conduct. Again the man went up stairs and put the same question to the waiter. There he is," said the waiter, pointing to Coy, who was standing on a chair regulating a lamp. The man became very excited and attracted Coy's attention, who, fearing from the man's actions some mischief the waiter, but the same actions some mischief the waiter was a standard to the control of the waiter was a same control of the control from the man's actions some nulschief was up, drew his plotol and ordered him to hold up. When searched a new, large stred plotol was found on the stranger. This was retained by the policeman, and the man warrings belt on filled with with a new sarrings belt on filled with with a new sarrings belt on filled with the control of the control of the con-stror and the man commenced pulling off his cost and acting excitedly. Bapilat Church Yesterday.

Last night Mr. Meyer preached a very interesting sermon at the Bapitlet church, the text of which he proposed to portray the foolishness and uselessness of a man thinking contrary to that which the bible commands. Mr. Meyer belongs to a denomenation of the Bapitlet church, who teach and practice feet washing and the trime immersion on Bapitism. They also believe in the "holy biks," that is to say the greeting of the bretheren by one another with a kiss, this authority is drawn from St. Paul who tells all men to greet one another in the above manner.

Bishop Searst Work.

It being feared that others would participate in the Ed Sevens fracas, a number of police officers were sent for and arrived to escort the prisoner to jail.

While the struggle between Captain Karber and Ed was going on, a tall, fair man went up, with pistol in hand, saying, "I can't have this." Bishop immediately draw a bead on him, but learned he was R. Davis, Deputy Sheriff of Medina county, who meant helping the officers, not opposing them. Davis subsequently showed his papers and had a laugh with Bishop over his (Davis') intended killing.
